COLONIAL NOBILITY
RECOGNISED BY THE IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT.

CANADA

The Patent of Nobility of the Feudal Barony of DE LONGUEUIL (Grant), with remainder to descendants male or female and by tenure, signed by King Louis XIV. granting this title to Charles le Moyne for distinguished services, is remarkable as creating not only a Territorial Barony, but also conferring a title of honour upon himself and his descendants, whether male or female. The cession of Canada to England by the Treaty of Paris in 1763, made no change in the legal right to hold honours; since this period each successive head of the family has, by assumption of right, used the title; but it was not officially recognized by the British Government until December 4th, 1880.

MALTA.

The Nobles of Malta take precedence among themselves according to the date of creation of Nobility, and irrespective of title. They are officially addressed as "Most Noble," while their eldest sons enjoy the courtesy title of Marchesino, Contino, or Baronesino, and the younger sons and daughters are styled dei Marchesi, dei Conti, or dei Baroni, according to the title which ennobles the family. Some of the titles are feudal, and devolve with certain estates by perpetual entail. The title is generally added to the surname. When Malta came under British protection, the Royal Commissioners, in the name of King George III. and his successors, promised that the laws, rights, and privileges of the Maltese should be maintained. The Reports of Commissions appointed to decide the claims recognised by the Imperial Government were presented to both Houses of Parliament by command of Her Majesty in May 1878 and August 1883.

The titles of the Maltese Nobility (with surnames) are COUNT OF BENERRUA (Carnaia-Catto), BARON

(Testaferrata-Bonici-Ghikag), and BARON OF TABRIA (Testaferrata-Moroni-Viani).

FOREIGN TITLES.

Foreign Titles borne by British subjects do not afford their holders any precedence whatever in this country, and strictly speaking a Royal License should be obtained for their use.

Among Foreign Titles held by British Subjects are those of BARON BENTINCK (see "COMPANION-AGE," and D. Portland, colls.), COUNT BENTINCK (see D. Portland, colls.), DUKE OF BROTTE (see V. Bridport), MARQUIS DE BURY, COMTE DE BURY AND DE BOCARNE (see "COMPANIONAGE"), BARONNE DE BCSN, COUNTESS OF CAPE ST. The early history of this family is involved in antiquity. The earliest surname under which the family of Colquhoun is traced is that of Kilpatrick. Sir John Colquhoun, of Luss, 14th in descent from Umfridus de Kilpatrick (temp. Alexander II.), was created a baronet of Nova Scotia by Charles I. Sir Humphrey Colquhoun, 3rd baronet, in 1704 resigned his Baronetcy to the Crown, and obtained a new patent with the old precedence, but with compendium in the motto.
